Much importance is attached to the next Sunday games among the amateur champlonship contestants.

In the opening game at Hodges field Sunday afternoon the Ben Hurs meet the American Bag team. The Ben Hurs will send out their atrongest hurler in an effort to win this contest from the Beg team, inasmuch as Manager Saulmon of the Ben Hur tribe feels that two defeats in the first elimination series would about remove them from further participation in late September, when the last leg of the elimination is played. The Bag team will send their star hurler, Crogan, to the mound against the Ben Hurs, and a close game is anticipated.

The Nibs meet the Kelseys in the second contest. The Nibs lost last Sunday to the Ploughs and are keenly alive to the fact that a team losing two games in the first elimination series is likely to be entirely eliminated from the grand finish, and the same applies to the Kelseys. A defeat Sunday for the Kelseys and the same applies to the fact that a team losing two games in the first elimination series is likely to be entirely eliminated from the grand finish, and the same applies to the Kelseys. A defeat Sunday for the Kelseys. A defeat Sunday for the Kelseys and the Ploughs and have other strong clubs to meet also. This should be a brilliant pitchers battle between Ferguson, of the Kelsey team and Willie Harris, the mainstay of the Nibs, in the box.

The games both go nine innings and will start at 2 and 4 p.m.
